

CONEXIÓN

El Boletín Oficial de la Comunidad Catolica de Santo Niño

September 11, 2016

The theme of Jesus' association with sinners is key in this Sunday's gospel. The unit involves a "twin parable" typical of Luke (5:36-39; 14:28-32) followed by an elaborate parable of the type often called an example story (another example story is the parable of the good Samaritan in 10:25-37). Parables of the Lost Sheep and Coin (15:1-10).

These parables introduce the importance of sinners for Jesus, and thus for disciples. The parable's drama is built on the tension of an attempt to find something that has been lost. Anyone who has lost anything or loses anything on a regular basis can identify with this tension. In our house it is keys and the remote control for the television that most often go AWOL. When this happens, children engage on a hunt for what their absent-minded parents have misplaced. When it is found, all are relieved. So in these parables with the sheep and the coin.

Jesus tells these parables to tax collectors and sinners. Thus the stories offer comfort, especially in the face of the Pharisees and scribes' grumbling that Jesus welcomes sinners and eats with them. The fact that tax collectors and sinners listen to Jesus while the leadership does not is a cultural reversal of expectation. Sometimes hearers are found in surprising places. The issue of listening to Jesus is a major one in gospel of Luke. The lesson is simple—to experience God's blessing, we need to listen to him.

UNA REFLEXIÓN PARA NUESTRO TIEMPO

Admirar y apreciar la compasión divina de forma abstracta no resulta tan complicado para nosotros, porque estamos acostumbrados a concebir de esa manera a Dios. El problema surge cuando ésta es asumida en la vida práctica por personas que nos parecen reprobables. Nos sorprende que la misericordia de Dios se manifieste favorable hacia aquellas personas que, dentro de nuestros esquemas morales estrechos, parecen indignos del perdón. Casi siempre los humanos solemos ser más exigentes con los pecadores que Dios mismo. Esto ocurre en mayor medida en la mente de las personas que estamos familiarizadas y mantenemos algún vínculo con la comunidad eclesial. Nadie nos ha nombrado administradores del perdón divino, por lo mismo, no tenemos derecho a emular la conducta del hermano "intachable" que se incomodó con la benevolencia del Padre ante el hermano descarriado. Nuestra misión es alegrarnos con la alegría del Dios que perdona generosamente a sus hijos. (La Verdad Católica)
